Pupils spread happiness through village

Children from Cottingham CofE Primary School have been spreading a little happiness in their community as part of their termly 'values day'. Setting out to make people in Cottingham and Middleton smile, the children have been planting bulbs in Middleton Pocket Park, singing at Middleton's Manor House Residential Home, clearing litter from Cottingham's playing field and delivering cakes and postcards to neighbours. Headteacher Ashley Scott said: "It really shows how important the local community is and the role we can play within it."
