‘Walking Bus’ gets pupils to school safely

Children from Cottingham Cof E Primary School got into their stride as part of National Walk to School Week. Youngsters were dropped off at the car park of the recently re-opened Spread Eagle pub and then escorted down the hill to school by parents, teachers and Neighbourhood Wardens in a ‘walking bus’. School head teacher Ashley Scott said: “The walks were a fun, healthy way to start the day and the children really enjoyed it! I’d like to thank everyone who supported the walks.”
Children from Cottingham Primary School were getting in their stride earlier this week as part of National Walk to School Week. Youngsters joined a ‘walking bus’ from the Spread Eagle pub to their school.